

Christ Church The Quinton Privacy Policy

Our Privacy Promise

At Christ Church The Quinton we are committed to safeguarding and preserving the privacy of people who are connected with Church. We promise that we'll tell you how we use your data. Plus, we'll make sure we collect and store your data securely.

Safety is our number one priority

We have to collect and keep a little data about you and your family, like your name, email address, planned Giving details, and your significant Church events (such as baptism, weddings, funerals etc). We may also have to share your data with our trusted partners, such as Her Majesties Revenue & Customs, and Birmingham Diocese. We promise to collect, process, store and share your data safely and securely. We will also make sure that the other organisations we work with are just as careful with your data.

We use data to communicate with you, and in Church records.

We can use the contact details you share with us to communicate with you regarding Church services, events, rotas etc.

Plus by listening to you, we can make changes, to improve your experience with us

If you choose to receive email newsletters from Christ Church The Quinton, we can keep you up to date with news, developments, and details of relevance

You're in control of your data

If you would like to stop receiving emails or newsletters sent from us via ChurchSuite, you can click on the unsubscribe button

For emails sent from individuals within the church, contact the individual concerned.

For queries, help or support with this, email us at office@quintonchurch.co.uk,

If the information we hold on you is wrong, you can amend it yourself on ChurchSuite, or email us at office@quintonchurch.co.uk to let us know what needs updating and we will correct it.

Alternatively, if you do not have access to email, you can contact the Parish Administrator on 0121 422 2031 or to
